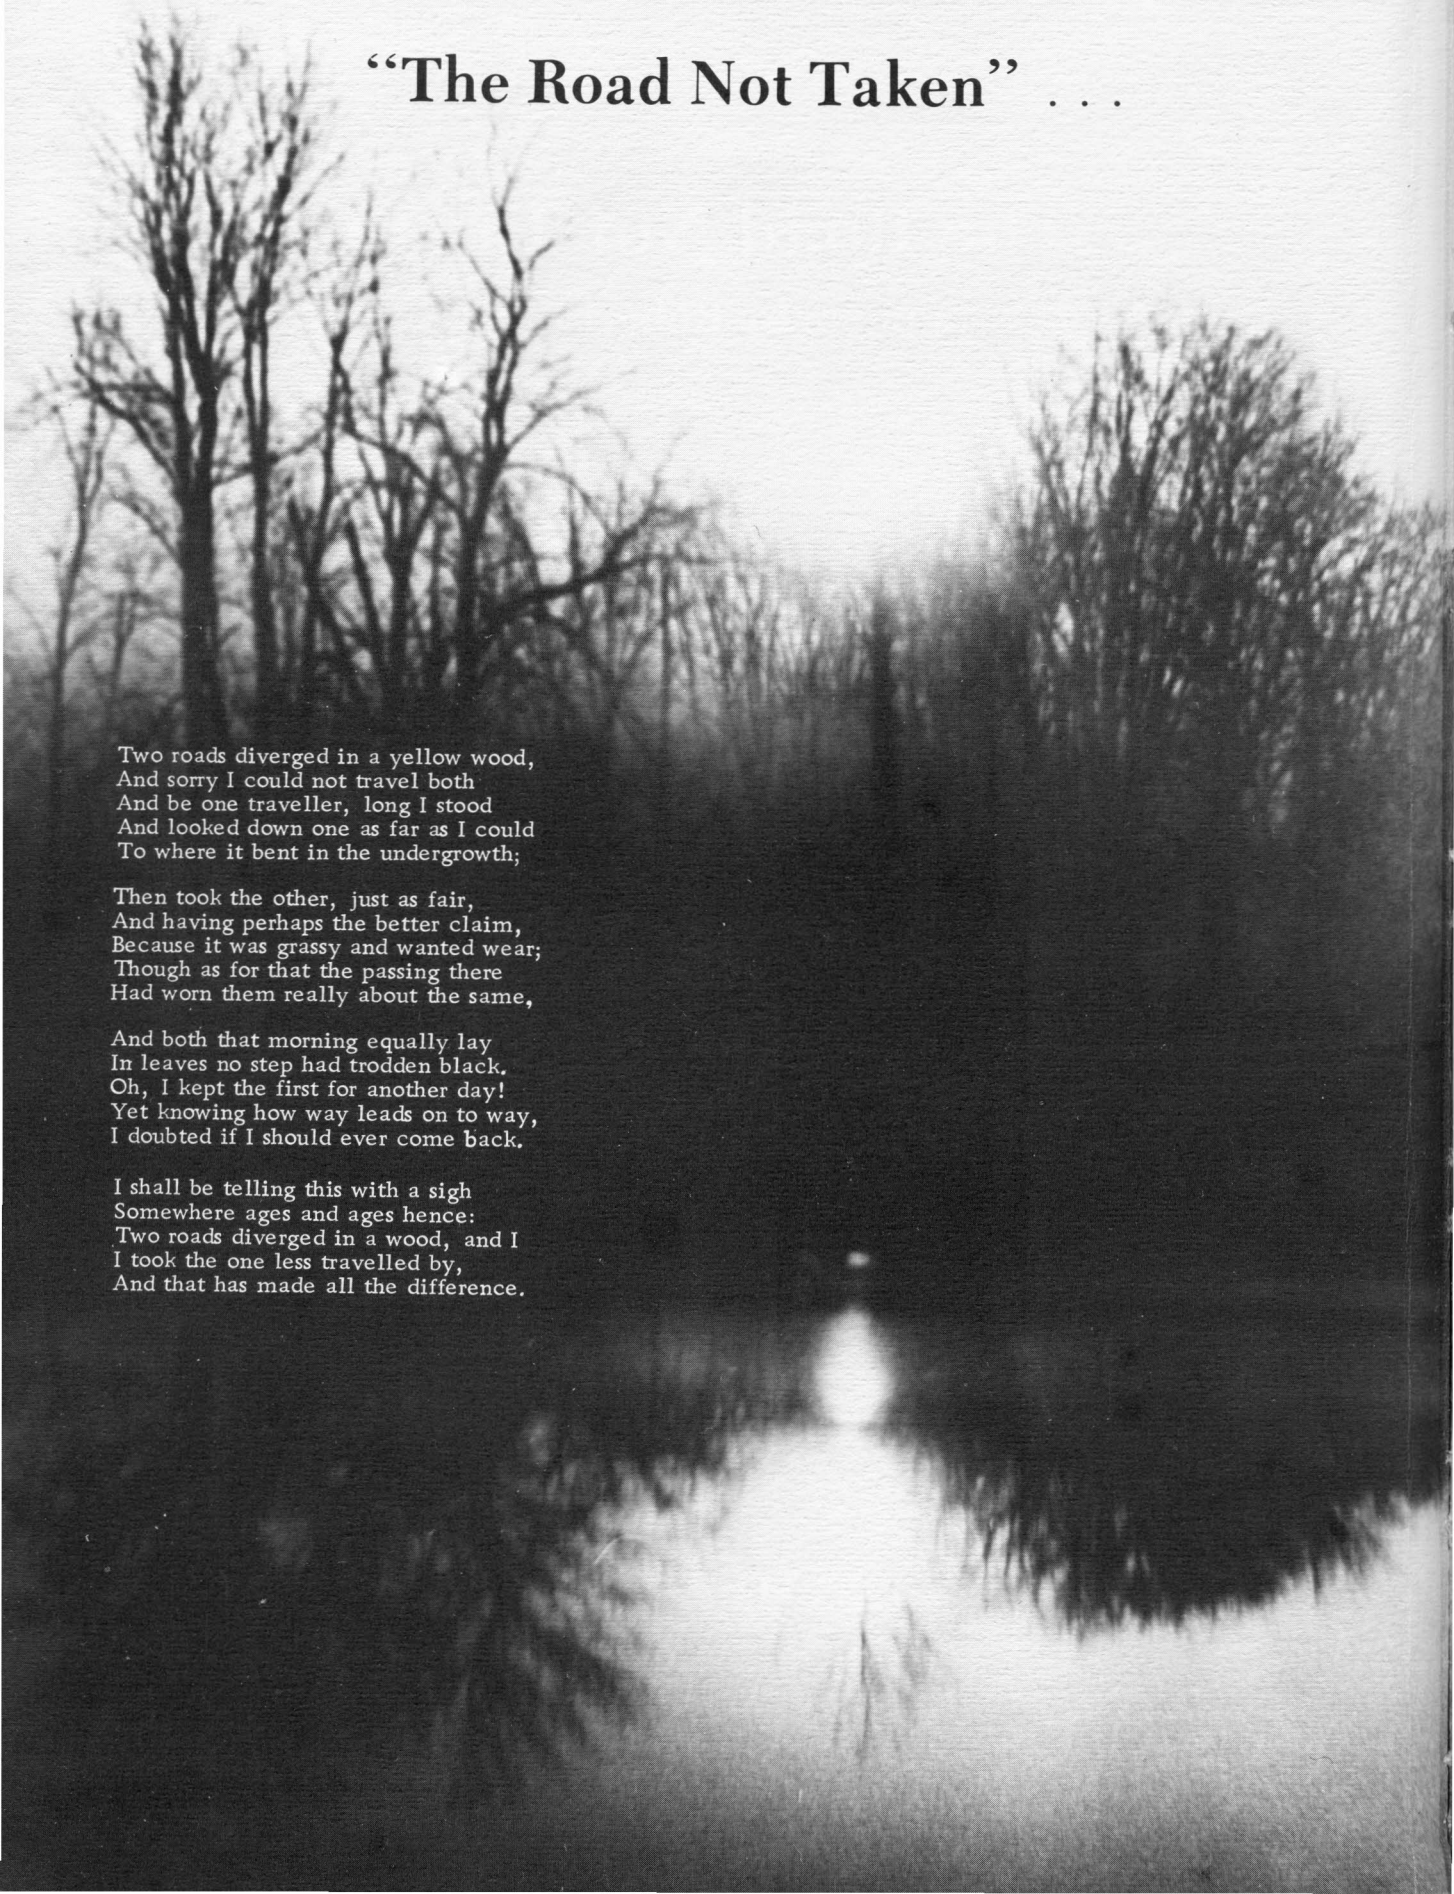
"The Road Not Taken" . . .



Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveller, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;

Then took the other, just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
Though as for that the passing there
Had worn them really about the same,

And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads on to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.

I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I
I took the one less travelled by,
And that has made all the difference.

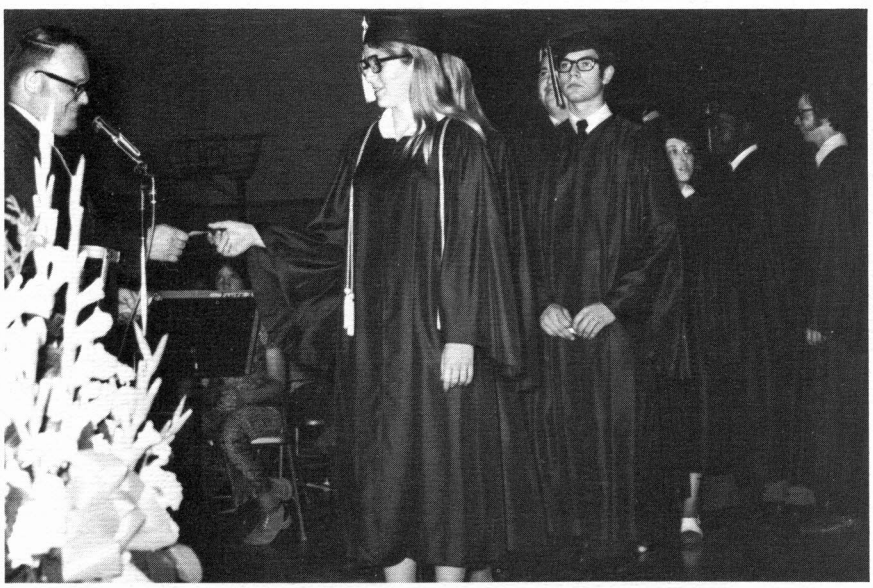
Mixed Feelings Were Many



"Mr. Ellsworth, it's been four years and you still don't know my name."

Mitzi Heineman
Homecoming Queen

"Words could never express the happy and excited feeling I possessed Homecoming night. Nothing could have made you sad, not even the rain and gloomy skys for there was sunshine in every one's smiles and excitement.

When half-time arrived and my father and I walked down the field I never realized a dream that seemed impossible was about to happen.

I'll never forget how tight my dad squeezed my hand and the tears in Joyce's eyes as she looked at each of us waiting to crown the queen.

When Mr. Smithson announced my name I was filled with the most happiest and wonderful feelings I ever felt in my whole life."

"Hi there fella's!"

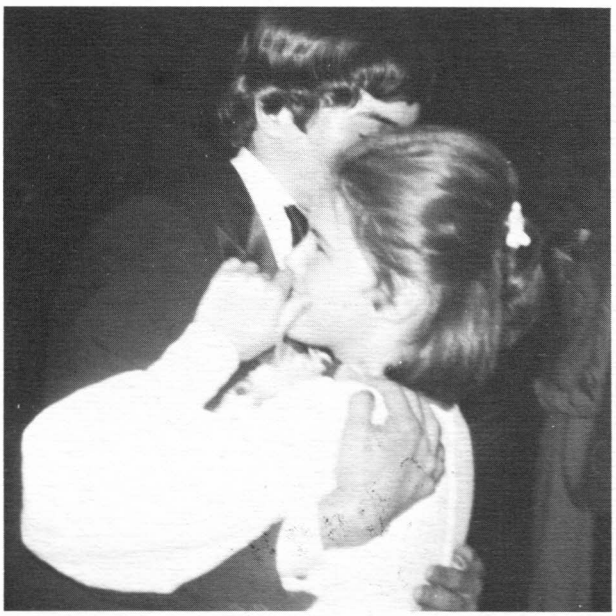
"On The Threshold Of A Dream" . . .

And what are you going to wear?



A moment they'll never forget. . .

The Prom

The doorbell rang.
The boy stepped into the
hallway proudly
clutching a corsage box.
Smiling his greetings,
the father rose
and walked over to
shake the boy's hand.
The boy
sat down in the living room
and began comfortably talking
to the girl's parents.
Almost immediately
the girl entered.
She floated in,
a vision of loveliness.
Every hair swirled gracefully in place.
Every fold
of her gown hung elegantly.
The boy and girl
exchanged flowers.
The corsage which perfectly matched
the girl's dress,
looked as fresh
as new-cut flowers.
The parents waved good-bye
as they wished the perfect
couple a lovely time.
And the father said,
"get her back whenever
you can son."

One of the girls on our staff saw this poem in another year book. She though it represented the
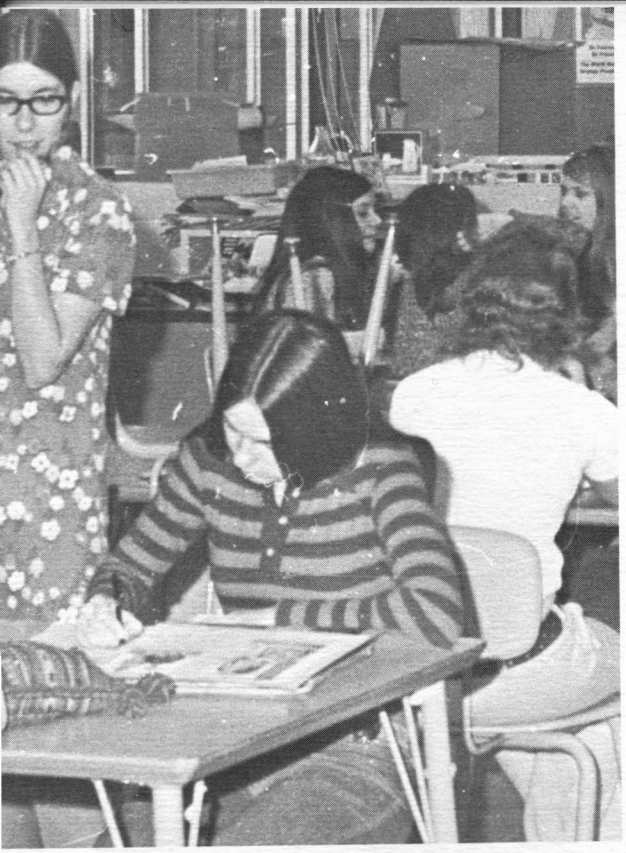
"Perfect Prom. Don't You?



Hey, that's good!

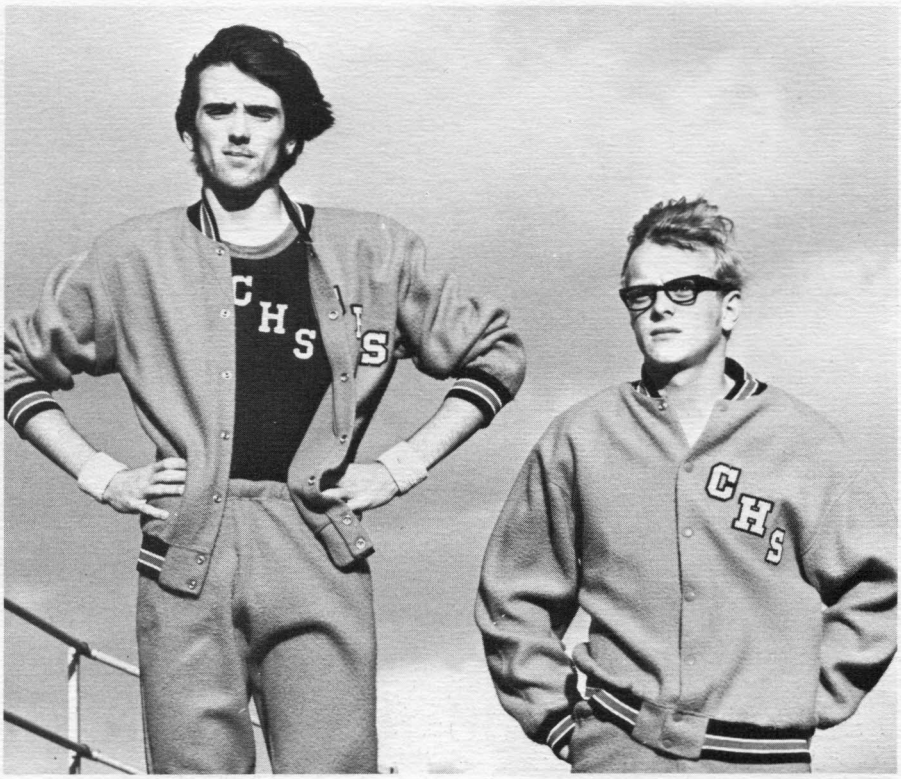
A young team hampered with injuries and lack of experience showed great depth in the 1971 season. The Cross Country Team finished the season with three loses. Leaving good prospects for next years season; it should be a good one.



Mark Fisher and Steve Garchow sped the Cavaliers on to victory.

The 1971-72 Golf team had a very successful season coming up with only two loses. They went in the conference with a three way tie for first but coming out with a third. A great accomplishment was made by beating Oscoda. With this experience the Golf team should come out on top.

Carrollton's Varsity basketball team, consisting of 11 Juniors and only one Senior, captured their third straight NBC crown, finishing the season with a 14-3 record.

The Cavaliers suffered their only losses at the hand of Tawas and St. Stephen's, which they later avenged to win the championship.

Carrollton bowed out of tournament play early by losing to St. Pete's, 52-49.

Carrollton's Varsity Track Team remained undefeated last season. No other team in the Conference could seem to touch them. They captured the Conference Meet and a few went on to Regional meet action.

Dean Somerfield went to the State Meet to compete with the best runners in Michigan. Dean captured the State Class B Low Hurdles title.

All of this helped Carrollton obtain the coveted Northern B Conference trophy.

The Person Who Invented The Term

"We're going to immortalize your handwriting, ... I thought I recognized that chicken scratching." "I'm tempted to curse... I feel so bad." "I swear to God it's the truth." "Yeah, ya gained a couple of points on the Ann Lander's Dating Test... didn't ya?' "Oh, # % ¢ *!" "Have any books that are overdue at the library?" "Speak for yourself." "The kids do something wrong, ... she just stares." "I'm hungry."

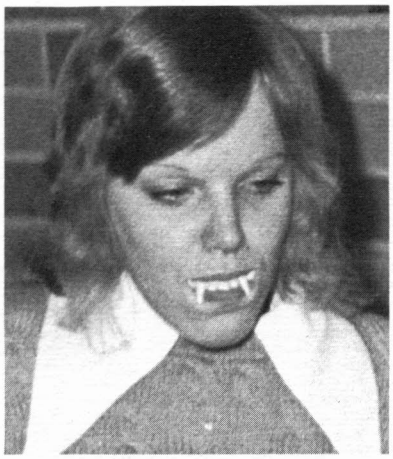
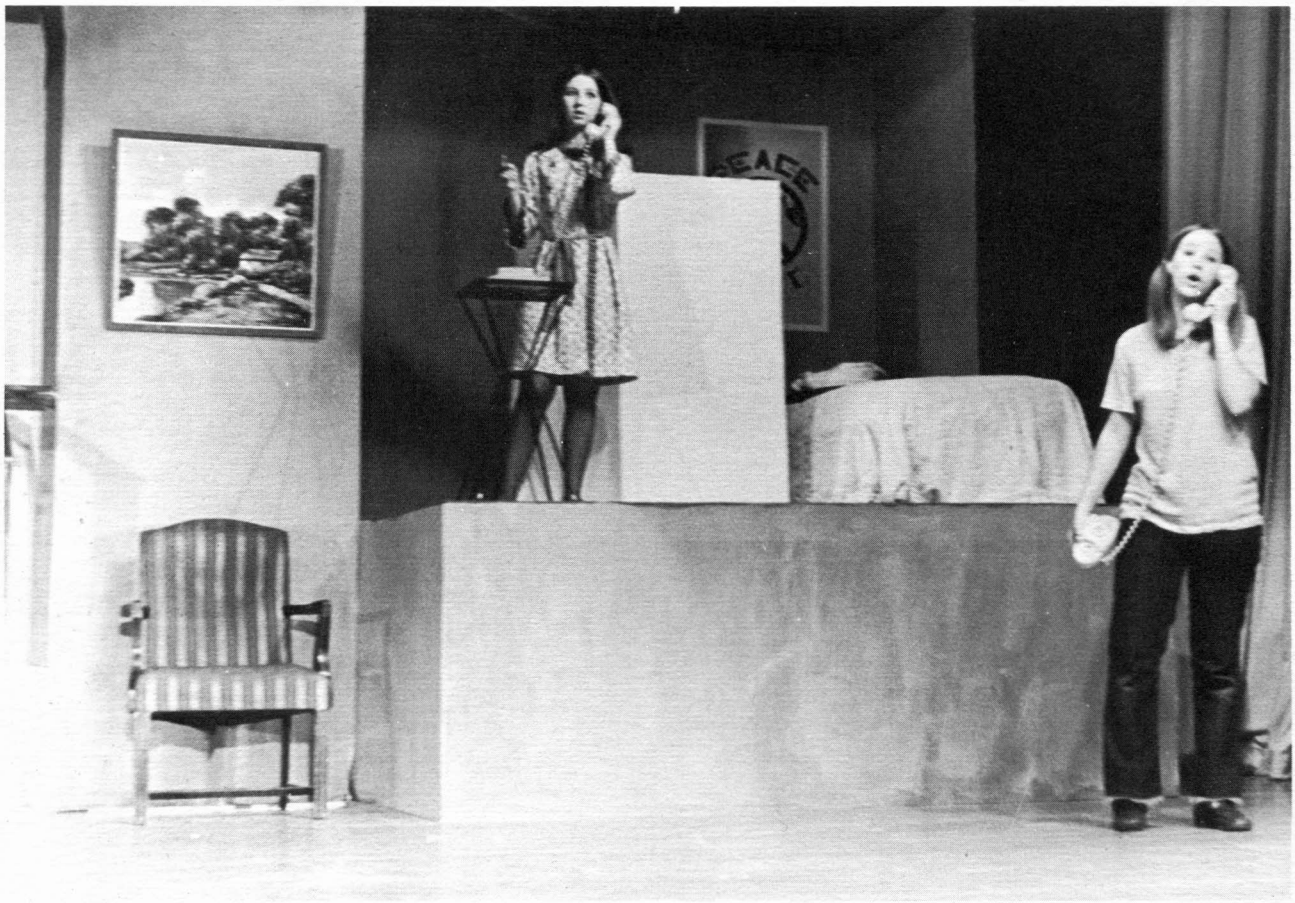
Dave Koscielski-" Man of the Year"
FIRST AID
SO WHAT

Roads We Have Travelled





To the Class of '72-

Your four years at Carrollton High are nearly over, soon it will be just another memory. You saw many changes here at school; a new dress code, a second lunch line, a new expanded curriculum and a student voice on the School Board.

It was 1968-69, your freshman year, and you were led by Buff Bierd, President; Gail Wenzel, Vice President; Sue Dalton, Treasurer; and Cathy Foley, Secretary. They, and your class accomplished much. You, and the class of '71 ran neck in neck for the loser's honors in the Homecoming float contest. (You might not have done that well if the other float hadn't fallen apart!!!) It was embarassing, but you tried!

The year was 1969-70, and now you were Sophomores. You prospered with Steve Garchow, President; Dan Garret, Vice President; Peggy Golomb, Treasurer; and Connie Bailey, Secretary. You did somewhat better in Homecoming competition. This year you placed third. Your class said, "The best is yet to come!" It did! This is the year your class sweated it out at Jenison Fieldhouse for the 1970 State Basketball Championship. While only Sophomores, Terry Clarkson, was your representative on that great team! Although they placed second in that heart-breaking meeting with River Rouge, they would always be first with you!

During your Junior year, "You got it all together", with Jeaneen Brissette, President; Connie Bailey, Vice President; Mitzi Heineman, Secretary; and Peggy Golomb, Treasurer. You went up another rung at Homecoming and placed 2nd in float competition, and managed to have money for one of the best proms ever. It stood, "On the Threshold of a Dream." Suddenly, your class got bold! You stood up for your choices and are now the first class to have different color caps and gowns, a different photographer for Senior pictures, and a prom held at the Crystal Ballroom in the Bancroft Hotel. You weren't afraid to break tradition! You didn't follow tradition! You made it!

Now in your final year, Richard Deno, President; Kim Elliott, Vice President; Mary Loucks, Secretary; and Peggy Golomb, Treasurer, provided the leadership, and you did things you never did before. As Seniors, the class of '72 finally took first place in the float competition. In one of your weaker moments, your class lost the S.O. campaign, but you made the best of it. The assembly you gave combined the music and informal rap of the "Jesus People". It was truly a most meaningful gathering.

The upcoming classes owe you a great deal. If it wasn't for your class' courage we wouldn't have a voice in our own graduations.

Your class shone in many activities. You held impressive records in football, basketball, track, cross country, and baseball. Under Coach Gingrich your J.V. football team held the most impressive record in the school's history, with only one loss to mar the season. Your J.V. basketball team initiated that 41 win streak for Coach DeLong. Yes, such names as Clarkson, Garchow, Somerfield and the names of all your athletes will be remembered for years to come.

Many stars were born, as your class produced many budding young actors and actresses. Their versatility was shown in plays ranging from slapstick comedy to serious drama. In "Rest Assured", they turned in performances as Italian ghosts and lady wrestlers. "Little Nell" showed them as vaudeville stars. "Lost Flight" saw them in such varied character roles as playboy executives, pilots, manaical murderers, and even a sweet old lady. In two of their last attempts, "Bye-Bye Birdie", and "Arsenic and Old Lace", they became screaming teenagers, despicable villains and eccentric old ladies. They indeed, provided us with many memorable evenings of entertainment.

As you leave CHS you have many questions to answer about both past and future. We wish you good luck in your quest for answers and in solving any problems on the long road ahead. When you reach the crossroads, may you always choose the right way.

God Bless!
a Fellow Traveller
